

Evening Telegraph, June 22, 1961.

Sheep graze leisurely in the early summer sunshine in this Evening Telegraph aerial view of Wold Newton. One of Lincolnshire's loveliest valleys shelters this Wold village, where the quiet road threads its way like a white ribbon through the leafy countryside and past the farmsteads.

W6001